

Afflatus Creations

Vol. 2, No. 5

Jan - Mar, 2025

Page: 86

MY MOON IN FULL BLOOM

You keep asking me
how much I love you dear Can I say two cups full, five bottles full Absurd is it not

But still I love
the twinkle in your eyes
When I say , as much as there is water in the ocean
And the ocean will never dry

My dear, my love for you will be over flowing from all the four chambers of my heart

But still I love
the twinkle in your eyes
When I spread my arms wide apart
and say this much From one pole to the other pole of the Earth

My dear, my love for you will ever be expanding Just as this universe is continuously forming

I love the love in your eyes
I love the love in your smile
The childish giggle touches my heart
As if you were given the moon
While I see my moon in full bloom
And they talk about the one in the sky.

Sunita Grover Raina
pinkysuper59@gmail.com