

ETERNAL MOTHER

O Nature, you surround us everywhere,
With oceans, mountains, earth and light.
Your flowers and countless gifts
Make our lives beautiful and bright.
You have blessed us beyond measure,
Giving us food, shelter and strength.
Like a mother, you embrace us all,
Knowing no difference among your children.
You give us pearls and precious treasures,
And a world where we live with pride.
You teach us through joy and hardship,
Showing us how to think and learn.
Your strength becomes our courage,
Your wisdom guides our uncertain steps.
You bloom again and again,
Nurturing every living thing.
There is still so much to say of you,
So many gifts to praise and cherish.
You are our life and our strength,
Nature, our eternal mother.

Bionote:

Prof. J. Semmalar is an Assistant Professor in the Department of English at Jawahar Science College, Neyveli, Tamil Nadu. She is engaged in teaching English literature and contributing to the academic activities of the department. Her professional interests centre on English language and literature and higher education.